CONDITION IS SAID
"GOOD" AT HOSPITAL

In Cleveland Clinic After Affray With Thugs On East 40th Street

The condition of Arthur Wilhelm, 50, East Third st., Salem, who was stabbed in Cleveland when he went to the rescue of a youth being attacked by bandits, was reported "good" at the clinic in Cleveland today.

Goes to Youth's Rescue
Wilhelm, reported on business in Cleveland, was walking along an East Side street Sunday when he saw a young man being attacked by two others. He rushed to the victim's aid and the thugs turned their attack on him. Cleveland police said.

They stabbed him and left him lying in the street. The bandits and their first victim fled when police arrived.

Wilhelm told Cleveland authorities that he boarded a Cedar ave. car at the public square, planning to get off at East Thirteenth st., near the Alerton hotel, where he is staying. He reported he fell asleep and was not aroused until the car reached East Fifty-fifth st.

Deciding to return on foot, Wilhelm was walking down East 40th st. between Cedar and Carnegie when he saw the assault.

Condition Better
Clinic attaches last night reported his condition critical. This morning after they said he spent a comfortable night, his condition was reported good; he has an even chance for recovery.

His wife is in Boston, Mass., visiting relatives.

OHIO DRYS PLAN TWO-WAY DRIVE

Anti-Saloon League Maps Out Campaign To Fight Repeal

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, July 24—A two-way drive against the prohibition repeal movement is planned by Ohio-Saloon League.

Hoping to keep the state dry even if the nation at large decides to blot prohibition from the constitution, the league drew its battle lines with the declaration that Ohio would not go to the wet's default.

Choose Dry Delegates

First, said S. P. McNaught, league superintendent, the dry forces will seek to elect friends of prohibition as delegates to the December convention which will consider repeal of the 18th amendment.

The convention was authorized by the Mooser law on which the league tried unsuccessfully to obtain a referendum. The state supreme court ruled the law was not subject to referendum and Secretary of State Myers refused to carry the issue to the United States supreme court. As a result the convention delegates will be elected Nov. 7.

The league's second plan is to fight for retention of the state

MOLLINSON HOP ENDS IN CRASH

Famed Flying Couple of England In Hospital
After Air Mishap

(By Associated Press)

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., July 24—James and Amy Mollinson's "greatest gamble" has put them in a hospital. The British empire's famous flying couple crashed last night near the end of the first leg of what was to be a triangular flight from Wales to New York, thence to Baghdad and thence back to England.

Today Mr. and Mrs. Mollinson were recovering from cuts and bruises. Their black biplane Seafarer was badly damaged, but probably not beyond repair.

Exhaustion Causes Crash

Physical exhaustion caused the accident after the Mollinsons had flown 36 hours from Pendine Sands, Wales, to within 60 miles of New York. Their gasoline nearly gone, they tried to bring the plane down on a runway at Bridgeport airport, only to have it shoot into marshlands and turn over.

"I was so tired I didn't know where I was headed," Mollinson whispered as mechanics carried him and his wife away on stretchers made from fabric torn from the Seafarer. Mollinson and his wife, taking 400 gallons of gasoline and a lip-lick as baggage, hopped from Wales at 4 a. m. Eastern Standard time Saturday. They fought contrary winds

D. P. PRINGLE DIES SUDDENLY

Cuyahoga County State Representative Is Victim of Heart Attack; Funeral Tuesday

(By Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, July 24—David P. Pringle, 38, Cuyahoga county state representative, died suddenly Sunday within two hours after he left a "victory party" celebrating passage of one of the bills he supported in the Ohio general assembly.

Funeral service will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow. Speaker Frank Cave said he would name a committee from the Cuyahoga county delegation to the legislature to attend the burial which will be in New Concord, O.

Pringle had just left a party of the Ohio Hairdressers' association about midnight Saturday when he collapsed suddenly. He died two hours later. Coroner Wilson S. Chamberlain said death was caused by acute dilation of the heart, from which Pringle had suffered for some time.

The party was in celebration of the passage of the bill to license beauty parlor operators and to establish a state board of cosmetologist examiners. A number of other representatives were present.

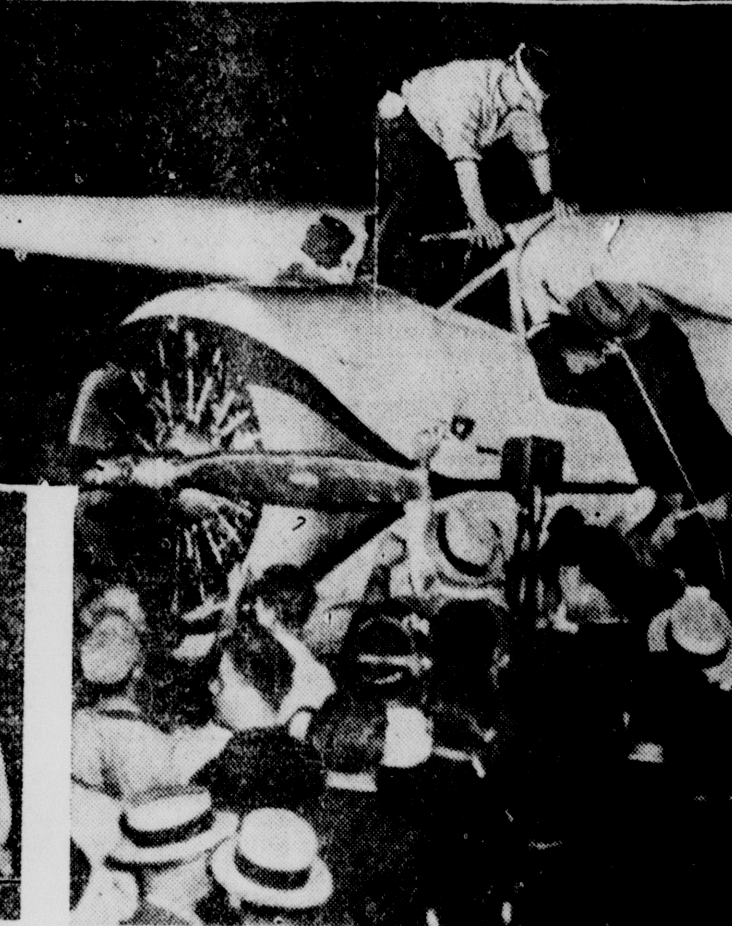

Pringle was serving his first term in the legislature. He was graduated from Wooster college in 1919 and served several months in the Marine corps aviation training school during the World war.

After his graduation, he was assistant to Dr. A. H. Higley, pastor of the Calvary Presbyterian church here. He then became a real estate and insurance broker, later studying law and starting to practice.

He recently was divorced from Mrs. Harriet M. Pringle. They had three children: David Jr., 12; Robert, 10; and Pelly Lou.

OKLAHOMA CITY MAN KIDNAPED

Family Ready to pay Ransom Asked for Return of Oil Millionaire

(By Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 24—Ready to pay any ransom "within reason," the family of Charles Urschel, kidnapped oil millionaire today awaited word from his captors.

W. R. Jarrett Released

Meanwhile, W. R. Jarrett, oil man abducted with Urschel, but later released, was reported to have identified a rogue's gallery picture as that of one of the machine gunners who snatched the men from a bridge game with their wives in the palatial Urschel home Saturday night.

Jarrett, who also was said to have gone on an unexplained mission Sunday afternoon, declined to comment and federal investigators, who took charge of the case, refused to make public the name of the man identified. It was learned at least three men, including the one identified were sought.

Jarrett said the kidnappers treated their victims "like gentlemen," made no mention of ransom, and apparently tried to give the impression that the one later identified was Charles "Pretty Boy" Floyd, Oklahoma desperado.

In Excellent Health

Urschel was in excellent health and Mrs. Urschel expressed confidence "Charles will work out all right."

Economic Parley Votes To Continue

(By Associated Press)

LONDON, July 24—Far from dead, the world economic conference may live many years as a result of today's decision by the steering committee to remain in permanent session here although the conference will recess Thursday.

Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald invited that this action be taken. Behind him was the full support of Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

Mr. Hull looks upon the conference not as having failed but as a series of conferences of which the London parley is only the first.

Today's decision calls for the original members of the steering committee to attend meetings, and former Governor James M. Cox will be able to represent the United States as he will stay here several weeks after the recess starts.

The nations whose delegates on the steering committee will not be in London will be represented by their ambassadors here.

CRAMPS FATAL TO LAD; NINE DIE IN STATE

Believed to Have Fallen
From Raft In Three Feet of Water

ATTEMPT TO REVIVE
VICTIM IS FUTILE

Family Outing at State Park, Near Winona
Ends In Tragedy

An eight-year-old Steubenville boy, believed stricken with cramps, was drowned while playing in three feet of water in the lake of Guilford state park, near Winona
Sunday afternoon.

Held Picnic At Lake

The boy is Donald Eugene, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Street of 1408 Oregon ave., Steubenville.

He and his parents, a sister Betty, 10, and other relatives, including Mr. and Mrs. Frank Curtis, Steubenville and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Swendryck and two children of Zanesville, were holding a picnic at the lake. The boy is believed to have drowned about 2 p. m., shortly after they had eaten lunch.

He was last seen seated on a raft, 15 ft. from shore, while playing in three feet of water, by Mrs. Swendryck.

A few minutes later Mrs. Swendryck, seeking the lad, was unable to find him, and after summoning her own two children to the shore, waded into the water in a fruitless hunt for the boy.

She obtained the assistance of other bathers, two of whom finally located the youngster after a hunt of 15 minutes. The body, lying in a cramped position at the bottom of the lake, was found where the raft had been located.

Unable to Swim

The boy is believed to have fallen from the raft or is thought to have been stricken with cramps when he attempted to wade to the shore. He was unable to swim, relatives said.

The boy's father attempted to revive him by administering artificial respiration while others at the lake called Salem police. Fire Captain Edward Yarwood, Fireman Michael Welch and Patrolman William Reardon responding.

They brought the boy to the Salem City hospital, Captain Yarwood and Street alternating in efforts to resuscitate the victim. They continued their efforts at the City hospital, aided by physicians, but the boy was pronounced dead 20 minutes later.

He was taken to his home in Steubenville last night. Surviving are his parents and sister.

Street and his family had moved to Steubenville two weeks ago. He is an undertaker.

Virginia To Vote On Repeal Nov. 7

SACRAMENTO, Calif., July 24—Governor John G. Pollard of Virginia said today he would recommend to the Virginia legislature when it convenes Aug. 17, that it set the date for the state to vote on ratification of the twenty-first (prohibition repeal) amendment, for Nov. 7, the regular election date, or earlier.

The statement followed one yesterday by the governor, here as chairman of the twenty-fifth annual governors' conference, that he would expect Virginia to vote for repeal by a two to one ballot.

Governor Pollard, long listed among the "dry" said his opinion in no way had changed his personal views on the subject of prohibition.

Hold Funeral Today

BUCYRUS, July 24—Funeral services were arranged today for Daniel Marshall, father of State Senator L. L. Marshall of Cleveland. He died yesterday at the age of 80.

Hello! Governors

TRUCKEE, Calif., July 24—Well, Saturday evening at midnight, we met all the governors at the line. Fired a 10-gun salute (governors' salute used to be 17, but Mr. Roosevelt on account of being a governor himself raised 'em two guns). Took quite awhile because we only had one cannon. We were able to wake everybody up but Gov. Parks of Missouri.

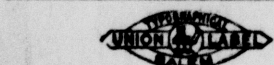

Yesterday they all planted a tree at Lake Tahoe, so we at least got 'em working for the first time since they been in office. It's the first reforestation camp for governors.

It will just about be the Democrats' luck to plant trees all over the country, and about the time they are big enough to harvest the Republicans will be back in, or is that too early?

Yours,
Will Rogers

THEREBY PROVING NOTHING

As far as is known, Wiley Post claims to prove nothing by flying from New York City back to New York City via the Atlantic ocean, Europe, Siberia, Alaska and Canada. Like Amelia Earhart Putnam's explanation of the reason for her solo flight across the Atlantic, Post can say little more than that he wanted to see if he could do it. Specifically, he wanted to break the record he established a year ago on the same flight when he had Harold Gatty with him as navigator.

For his success, the people who have learned to link his name with long-distance flying have much praise. If there be lacking some of the enthusiasm they displayed on a previous occasion, an excuse is ready. It's hard to get excited about a fellow who makes difficult flying seem so easy. He has won that previous assurance of success which is one of the rewards given men who aren't expected to fail.

Quite unintentionally, Post's spectacular accomplishment brings out a significant fact in the popular conception of time, according to new standards. When conversation drifts speculatively to the quickening tempo of living, let it be recalled that not so many years ago a trip around the world in less than two weeks was a figment of fiction.

Today, with Wiley Post back in New York City eight days and 18 hours after his departure, the dream has been realized.

Yet, it does not represent the ultimate speed of travel. To Post, struggling to save hours on his flight and to his millions of admirers hoping he would be able to do it achievement instinctively is compared with new ideals. There is no question but that before long it will be possible to fly around the world in a week or less. The modern world, already traveling at phenomenal speed, is far from satisfied. With all honor to Wiley Post, it may be said his flight proves nothing except that it is possible to make it in even less time.

EASY ON THE BALLYHOO

There is no way of knowing how far the recovery act administrators intend to go with propaganda during the next few months. Some of the predictions, however, have been disturbing.

They have indicated that public opinion is to be excited to a point where it can be applied against recalcitrant units of business as a coercive force. There has been talk of repeating the processes of the Liberty loan drives.

At the risk of warning against a thing that doesn't exist, it should be pointed out that coercion, or even the appearance of coercion, isn't going to be taken in good grace in many parts of the country. Propaganda undoubtedly has a place in the kind of thing that will be attempted. But propaganda needs to be controlled vigorously lest hysteria creep into it.

The war left behind many souvenirs of extreme injustice done in the fervor of a kind of fevered patriotism induced by the prodigies of the propagandists. Many sincere and valuable people were made victims of the childish mob passion of their inferiors for the sake of a cause which, in retrospect, does not stand up well in all particulars.

This is the kind of thing that cannot be welcomed by people who try to think. Fortunately, few dissenting voices have been raised against the recovery program. The country is behind the administration. For the most part, it seems to be intelligently sure of the reasons for its support. There is general agreement that recovery cannot be brought about any other way.

Consequently, the need for ballyhoo is not great. It probably is a good idea to authorize use of labels by companies which have raised wages and reduced hours. Past that, recovery administrators will be getting onto soft ground. They have nothing tangible to gain by promoting mob passion to achieve their ends. It will be a great disappointment to those who believe in what they are trying to do if they permit themselves to give anything but the appearance of reasonable men on a reasonable job.

ADD: FAMOUS FIGHTS

The reading public hasn't had a good fight to read about since Theodore Dreiser and Sinclair Lewis made fancy passes at each other more than a year ago. It has been very dull.

A showman named Al Jolson and a gossip columnist named Walter Winchell have fixed all that. The little brawl they put on in a Hollywood boxing show was better than the patrons expected to see between any of the pairs of professionals in the ring. Best of all, it was perfectly sincere.

The reason why Mr. Jolson stepped up to Mr. Winchell and let him have it is nobody's business. The thing of importance is that Mr. Jolson polished off the gossip in elegant style. His attack was vigorous, but not hysterical. His punches were hard enough to set the gent down on his haunches, but not hard enough to impair his ability to realize that he was being given the revenue business by a fellow of some consequence.

It is admitted here and there that Mr. Winchell's dirt-digging column packs plenty of wallop. The wince he has caused, if they could be gathered together, would look like one of the late Lon Chaney's very worst faces. But Mr. Winchell's wallops, being so frequent and so widely distributed, lack something—the something that probably brought a whale of a lot of satisfaction to Mr. Jolson when he stood by and saw his wallop on Mr. Winchell's jaw take effect. Perhaps it might be described crudely as personal satisfaction.

Making people wince is Winchell's business. Making Winchell wince is Jolson's pleasure.

Yeah mammy!

What Others Say

THE MOTOR MAZE

Little heralded, a meeting of the motor vehicle law administrators of 46 states has been held in Detroit, looking to the clearing up of confusion in motor laws, hoping to establish national standards of driving regulations.

There is no uniformity now. How is any stranger in a town to know whether turns are permitted on a red light, or what the caution light means locally? State and municipal attitudes toward speed are so varied that the tourist drives pretty much as he pleases. Requirements for drivers are in helter-skelter shape. So are the laws about lights, mechanical conditions and signaling.

It is more than likely that conscientious tourists, because of unfamiliarity, constantly break the laws of the states they traverse. Indeed, while he was secretary of commerce, Mr. Hoover informed a meeting of traffic executives that on his way from Washington to New York his chauffeur, obeying the code of the District of Columbia, had rendered himself liable to arrest 18 times, due simply to the differences in the laws and regulations en route.

Nowhere is there so potent a cause of accident as in this very situation, nor is there any assurance, except in scattered states, that the motor vehicle operator is financially responsible for accidents. Uniform legislation on a great many subjects is in existence, but meanwhile the automobile has as spotty a code as matrimony. President Roosevelt has been asked to call a national traffic conference looking to standardization of traffic codes in states and municipalities. There are few things which would affect our everyday safety more than the accomplishment of this end.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

HEALTH

Ads In Arthritis Cure

Misuse of certain medical words causes confusion. For example, many persons refer to pain in the shoulder, back or legs as "neuritis," when in reality the ailment is a rheumatism or arthritis. Perhaps no word is more incorrectly used than "arthritis."

Dr. Copeland

Arthritis is the term used for an inflammation of a joint. Any joint of the body, as the finger, wrist, knee or shoulder, may be involved. The inflammation can be traced to a blow, a fall or an injury. It may follow an infection in the teeth, tonsils, nasal sinuses or gall-bladder.

Contrary to the popular belief, arthritis is curable. Unfortunately, it is too often neglected and allowed to persist for many months or even years. When neglected, the inflammation produces definite alterations in the architecture of the joint. This change prevents normal movements of the joint and every motion is painful.

Not Easy to Cure

Chronic arthritis is not easy to cure. This explains the widespread but false belief that arthritis is necessarily a permanent and incurable affliction. Many sufferers disabled by arthritis fail to apply for the proper treatment because they think the ailment is incurable.

I am confident that if every sufferer from arthritis consulted with his doctor as soon as pain appeared, more cures would occur. But as I have often stated, too many a person is prone to make his own diagnosis and resort to treatment not recommended by the family physician.

Bear in mind that before cure can be hoped for, the cause of the arthritis must be determined. This information can only be obtained by a complete physical examination. In addition, an examination of the teeth, tonsils and sinuses is necessary to complete the diagnosis. It is advisable that the teeth as well as the afflicted joint be X-rayed.

Useless Treatment

Local applications are of little value if the inflammation of the joint is due to some localized infection. No doubt you know some friend or a member of your own family, who religiously applies this, that or the other ointments to a painful shoulder or knee. There may be temporary relief but certainly never permanent cure if the trouble is arthritis.

I receive many inquiries about the so-called "diathermy" treatment for arthritis. In diathermy there is the liberation of heat within the tissues of the body. This is accomplished by an electrical machine with a high frequency current. The heat is liberated by this method deep into the tissues and so it differs from the heat of an electrical pad or hot water bottle.

The diathermy heat stimulates the blood supply of the injured joint. It is extremely beneficial in early cases of arthritis that result from a blow or fall. It should only be used under the supervision of a physician.

Before the crowd in the grand stands knows what has happened, Brewster has reported the play.

● LEFT—THERE GOES YOUR OLD BALL GAME! You wouldn't be human if you didn't get excited and wrought up when the home team puts the game on ice. It's a time when you want to smoke a lot. You will find Camels milder, and your nerves will be grateful!

Steady Smokers turn to Camels

"It's some strain being the public's eyes at big sporting events," says Edson Brewster, who clicks out the play-by-play for Western Union. "I have to see everything and I have to see it right. I've got to keep my eyes on the field and a steady hand on the telegraph key every second. No wonder I am a steady smoker! But I do not worry about my nerves. I have smoked Camels for years. They are mild, and never disturb my nerves. I like them better."

Camels, being made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand, have brought new smoking satisfaction to thousands of men and women who had never known that a cigarette could be so mild...so rich and pleasing. Try Camels. Your own experience will soon reveal why steady smokers turn to Camels.

Yanks Trim Tribe To Regain Lead In American League Race

THE DAY IN SPORTS

WHAT DO OWNERS WANT?
INDIANS OUT OF SLUMP

TAKE 11 or 12 mediocre musicians and place Paul Whiteman in front of them and what do you have? A mediocre orchestra, notwithstanding the fact that the grand director is ranked among the nation's leading dance band leaders.

Take a team of mediocre baseball stars, put the best game has in manager at their helm and, in spite of everything that the manager can do, the team won't be a first division aggregation. The same holds true in any sport—football, basketball or what have you.

The manager or coach is an important, a vital factor in the development of a winning team. He is not, however, the factor which determines whether the team is a great or mediocre team; a champion or second division club. First of all he's got to have players.

BILL KILLEFER has been fired as manager of the St. Louis Browns and Owner Phil Ball has replaced him with Al Sothoron, a fairly good pitcher of a few years ago but who was chased out of the American league when rival teams found he didn't know how to field a ball. It can be predicted with fair accuracy and truth that Sothoron won't win any game as a manager with the Browns.

In Cleveland Walter Johnson has replaced Roger Peckinpaugh as pilot of the Indians. Because Joie Moomik, Earl Averill, Eddie Morgan and other brilliant stars of last year failed to hit and because Wesley Ferrell and other slubbers proved to be in-and-outers instead of stars, Peck was placed on the spot, fired. Johnson was called in from his farm near Washington, D. C. His success as far as bringing the tribe into front ranking hasn't been so great.

Whether the Cleveland team's sudden departure from the long-time slump is entirely due to Johnson is something that no one will be able to prove. We venture the statement that the Indians would have been no worse off had Peck continued as manager. The Indians have a good ball club, one that is better than it has appeared this season. But, regardless of where they rank at the close of the season, it won't be the manager's fault or entirely due to his ability or lack of ability.

GIVE PECK the same lineup as the New York Yankees or the Washington Senators and his presence on the team's roster as manager won't hurt the team's standing. Anyone can bring championships if they have Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig, Joe Sewell, Herbert Pennock, Gomez or Alvin Crowder on the team.

It's the same in football—the coach's hide is tacked on the wall if he doesn't develop a winner out of nothing. Too much is demanded of the mentor who probably may be striving to make something out of a handful of lads who couldn't learn what it's all about in months.

Chicago Cubs Gain on Giants in National; Pirates Lose Twice

(By Associated Press)

The two New York clubs, again bracketed together as leaders of the Major leagues, once more were the centers of baseball interest today as the Yankees forged ahead in their duel with Washington for first place in the American and the Giants found their lead in the National dwindling before the onslaughts of the Chicago Cubs.

The Yankees picked just the right time yesterday to hand a pair of 8 to 7 lacerations to the Cleveland Indians. Washington's Senators straggled up at the same time and dropped a 12 to 8 decision to the Detroit Tigers, giving the Yanks the lead by a half game.

Giants Rally to Win

The Giants put on a sensational ninth inning rally, scoring seven runs off three pitchers in the final frame to beat the Dodgers, 8 to 5. But the second place Cubs came through with a double victory over the Phillies winning the opener 9 to 5 when Harvey Hendrick smashed a pinch home run with the bases full in the tenth, and the second game 3 to 1. Thus New York's lead was cut to two games.

The Yankees got fine pitching from Johnny Allen and Danny McFadden for their double triumph and Lou Gehrig aided the cause in the first game with his 19th homer of the season. The Senators also were doing well until Al Thomas skidded in the eighth.

The Tigers, through their win moved from sixth place to fourth while the White Sox dropped a pair to Boston and went to fifth.

Hauser Hits Two More Homers

CHICAGO, July 4.—Columbus was out in front by seven games today in the American Association championship race, and Joe Hauser of Minneapolis, was only six home runs short of a new all-time record for the organization.

Dry Weather Cuts Ohio Bird Supply

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, July 24.—Distribution of pheasants from Ohio game farms must be curtailed this year as a result of the long period of warm dry weather.

Conservation Commissioner William H. Reinhart reported that sportsmen may expect a shortage in the number of birds available for restocking in various counties. The excessive heat has killed hundreds of young birds, Reinhart was informed by Tom Nash in charge of the Bureau of Game Propagation.

Nash explained that the hot sun caused blood clots in the heads of the young pheasants and predicted many more would succumb if the dry spell continues.

Vines Collapses As American Stars Lose; Perry, Austin Triumph

(By Associated Press)

AUTEUIL, France, July 24.—For the second time in three years, England's twin tennis aces, Fred Perry and H. W. (Bunny) Austin, have halted America's bid to regain the Davis cup in the interzone finals.

Vines Collapses

Just as they did in 1931, but under circumstances even more dramatic, Austin and Perry smashed through to victories in both of the final singles matches yesterday, gaining one by default through the collapse of the American champion, Ellsworth Vines, won the series four matches to one, and gained the right to battle France in the challenge round Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

To Austin went the honor of clinching the series and ending for another year America's hopes of re-capturing the trophy France has held since 1927.

Meeting Wilmer Allison in the first match of the day, with Great Britain holding a 2-1 lead, Austin polished off the Texan in sets, 6-1, 7-5, 6-3, 6-4, but all the drama, and by a narrow margin, was concentrated in the second duel between Perry and Vines, meaningless though it was after Austin's clinching triumph.

U. S. Champ Faints

Fighting to regain the prestige he lost through the terrific beating he took from Austin in the opening singles match Friday, Vines fought Perry point for point until he suddenly fainted from nervous exhaustion and the pain of an injured ankle with Perry at set point in the 14th game of the fifth set.

The lanky American fell flat on his face, his long arms stretched full length in the red dust. Officials hurriedly applied wet towels to his face, then carried him to the club house where he quickly was revived.

Perry was awarded the victory, 1-6, 6-0, 4-6, 7-5, 7-6 default.

WOODWORTH Resigns

(By Associated Press)

CINCINNATI, July 24.—Wade (Red) Woodworth has resigned as football line coach at the University of Cincinnati.

It was reported the former All-American guard at Northwestern may join the Cincinnati Reds, newly organized national profession football team.

Flying Governor

NEW YORK, July 24.—Tommy Loughran and Johnny Risko crowd the youngsters out of the fight picture this week with a 10-round match at Mills stadium, Chicago, Wednesday night.

This duel of veteran heavyweights headlines an otherwise featureless national boxing card for the week.

Both Risko and his Philadelphia rival have been frequently consigned to the fist scrap heap in the last couple of years but both bob up now and then with victories over younger and more active, but decidedly less experienced foes.

Lives Up to Name

Mrs. Jessie B. Costello is continuing to live up to her sobriquet of "the Smiling Widow," despite the evidence presented in her trial for murder in Salem, Mass. last October in St. Louis, unting two oil fortunes.

Betty Slick, 16, his wife's daughter, told investigators she had noticed two men resembling the description of a pair of the kidnapers following her car during the past week.

Both Mrs. Urschel and Mrs. Jarrett expressed confidence they could identify the kidnapers, described as "sawtooth foreigners", the leader
thickest, the other slender.

O'Connell Still Held

ALBANY, N. Y.—On this, the 18th day since John J. O'Connell, Jr., was kidnaped, his politically powerful uncles were reported to be seeking a sign of good faith from a gang with which they are dicker.

They want, it is said, some personal possession, such as a ring of young O'Connell's, to assure them they are really dealing with the captors of the youth.

O'Connell's captivity is stretching out into one of the longest in the records of modern kidnaping. Except in cases where the victims never repeated alive, they have usually been released in less than 18 days. One of the longest captivi-ties on record was that of Charles Roettcher, of Denver, who was released after 16 days.

Since O'Connell, nephew of Edward and Daniel O'Connell, Democratic political leaders, was kidnaped July 7, four notes have been received. One demanded $250,000 and the others asked the uncles to name 34 intermediaries.

Edward O'Connell has denied a rumor that $100,000 has already been paid.

"Reunion in Vienna," Gay Romance Plays Tuesday

ONCE in a long while there comes to the screen a picture that is really liked by all who see it, that all reviewers alike praise and that makes it easy to pen enthusiastic phrases about it—such a film is "Reunion in Vienna."

From Sherwood Play

It has been a famous play (Robert E. Sherwood) providing Lynn Fon-tanne and Alfred Lunt with one of their most successful vehicles and it is also a famous picture. The success is again given as much to its characters as to the plot as was the case with the play.

In place of Lunt we find John Barrymore and Diana Wynyard steps into the slippers of Lynn Fon-tanne. Frank Morgan is very prominently cast and is highly praised for his work by New York critics. Then there are Una Merkel a splendid addition to any picture, Harry Travers who plays the role he had in the play, May Robson, and Bodil Rosing.

The film will play at the State Tuesday and Wednesday. It's a light and lighthearted comedy fashioned with a background of Sraung waltzes, one that gives the younger Barrymore every opportunity for his farcical talents.

THE REUNION OF Jean Harlow and Clark Gable is the answer to the exhibitor's prayer. Since the smashing success of their teamwork in "Red Dust" it was inevitable that Miss Harlow and Gable should play a return engagement on the screen and so we have "Hold Your Man" now playing at the State theater.

Whatever it takes to put romance on the screen these two have it—more dramatic than most stories on

THE BAND BOX

Latest notes from Dance-land and the parks.

A spaghetti supper and dancing will feature a program of entertainment planned by Allen Reynolds past No. 892, Veterans of Foreign Wars, at the V. F. W. home starting at 6:30 p. m. Tuesday.

Thousands of persons visited nearby parks and bathing beaches Sunday seeking relief from the near record-breaking temperatures which prevailed in Salem.

The weekly old-time dance will be a feature at Craig Beach pavilion
Tuesday night.

WELLINGTON, Kan.—Local
Santa Fe officials claim some kind of a record for the run between Belen, N. M., and Wellington. Five baggage cars of silk were being rushed from San Francisco to New York. The 656 miles from Belen were covered in exactly 66 minutes, officials said. Engineer W. J.
Kendley brought the train from Waynoka, Okla., to Wellington, 117 miles, in 99 minutes.

this order, the film is bound to please.

Jean In Reform School

But it is replete, by way of further interest, with a stimulating story that has as

Jean Harlow

background, the interior of a women's reform school. Here Jean discards
the finery of her earlier appearance for the drab-ness of uniforms Gable as the man she loves also lands in jail and the ultimate ending comes when the two are released and started on their new paths to happiness.

Sam Wood, always certain of his cast and story, has done a splendid job with the original Anita Loos story. He has kept up the swift pace he established in the pictures opening and held tight reins on the obvious impulse to overplay the dramatic movements.

It is this brevity and dispatch of dealing with the plot that adds tempo and suspense to the film.

No More Piles

Pile sufferers can only get quick, safe and lasting relief by removing the cause—bad blood circulation in the lower bowel. Cutting and salves can't do this—an internal remedy must be used. Dr. Leonard's Hem-Roid, a harmless tablet, succeeds, because it relieves this blood congestion and strengthens the affected parts. Hem-Roid has a wonderful record for quick, safe and lasting relief to pile sufferers. It will do the same for you or money back. Lea & Drug Co., and druggists anywhere sell Hem-Roid with this guarantee. Adv
